RACING AT NEWCASTLE

As usual a large number of members made the trip to Newcastle to see the Newcastle Newmarket run and to enjoy the hospitality of the Newcastle Jockey Club.

THE OLD AND BOLD

Anzac Day saw over 300 members and their friends celebrate in time honoured fashion in the Club Room after the march. Old comrades met, yarns told and toasts were made in Anzac spirit.

COFFS HARBOUR MEMBER

Nice to see Ted Robinson from Coffs Harbour in the Club. Ted is an old member and a keen racing owner and administrator, being President of Coffs Harbour Racing Club. Committeeman Alf Collins recently spent an enjoyable holiday at Ted's Hotel.

BOOKING OFFICE

Members will be sorry to learn of the sudden departure from the Booking Office of the receptionist, Miss Lane or Evelyn to most of the regulars. Evelyn spent a few weeks in hospital and on advice of her Doctor had to call it a day at the Club. She is now in Victoria with her family and I'm sure all here wish her the best of good health for the future.

The Club was indeed fortunate to be able to replace Evelyn so quickly, and we are happy to welcome our new receptionist, Miss Elaine Murphy. In this copy of the magazine facilities which are available through the agency of the Booking Office are fully explained.

JEWFISH GALORE

Bill Sellen Jnr. certainly got among the "big ones" over the holiday week. Bill landed one 48 lb., another 34 lb. Club member Ken Brooks also caught one 44 lb. Nice fishing.

ANOTHER TREBLE

Steph Lowe was indeed a proud father when his three sons, Michael, David and Timothy, were admitted to the Club recently.

RUSS WILLIAMS ON THE MEND

Members will be pleased to hear that popular member Russ Williams has returned home after a serious operation. Russ had to fly from Hong Kong whilst on a cruise with Mrs. Williams, for the operation. All are looking forward to seeing you in the Club shortly, Russ.

PRIVATE DINNER

A private function was held by members, Dick Dowling, Ted Lambert, Gordon Walton and Wilf Ransom, during April to entertain their colleagues from interstate on behalf of Dunlop Australia Ltd., who were in Sydney for a conference.

The evening was a great success, and these members have asked that their thanks be passed on to the staff.

Members are reminded that there are two rooms available for private functions, the Sportsman's Room on the lower ground floor which caters for the larger party, and the Function Room on the second floor for smaller dinner parties.

Members who are interested please ring Mrs. Banner in the office for further details.

PRINTING IDENTITY RETIRES

Mr. B. A. J. "Bert" Caldwell, a very well known and widely respected club member, has announced his retirement.

Mr. Caldwell, the Managing Director of Mastercraft Printing Co. Pty. Ltd., leaves the industry this month, 47 years after he began his career as an apprenticed letterpress machinist.

He joined Mastercraft Printing Co. Pty. Ltd. in 1932, when the company at that stage had only one other employee and operated from two small rooms in Linden Court, Castlereagh Street.

Today the company occupies a six-storey building in Bathurst Street and employs a staff of over 50.

Mr. Caldwell planned to retire at the end of the financial year, but recent ill-health hastened this move.

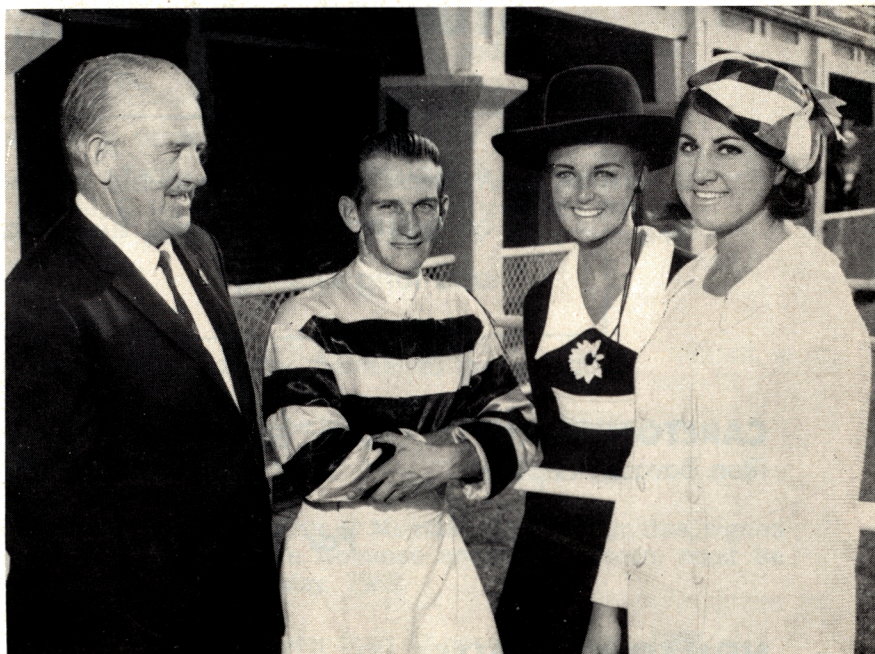

His army of friends regard his retirement as the end of an era in the printing industry. They knew him as a shy, but tenacious and shrewd businessman — a definite identity, who played an important part in helping to build commercial printing into one of the nation's major secondary industries.

Mr. Caldwell is a former member of the Executive Committee of the Printing and Allied Trades Employers' Association of N.S.W.

FROM QUEENSLAND

Popular bookmaking member, Jim Watson, of Brisbane Tattersall's Club, visited the Club over the racing carnival where he was welcomed by a host of Club members. Nice to see you again, Jim.

Os. Bates, Public Relations Officer for Newcastle Jockey Club, with Peter Miers after Peter had ridden Caraway to victory in the N.J.C. Handicap. Newcastle Golden Girl, Barbara Fowler, and "The Newcastle Sun" form guide competition winner, Sue Collins, were there to add congratulations.

Bowling Notes

The month of April was an uneventful one for Tatt's Bowling Club. It was the lull before the storm as the month of May with the Singles Championship and Pairs Handicap should keep our members pretty busy.

The draw for the above events namely, the Singles Championship and the Pairs Handicap have now been completed. The first and second round will be played on the same day — morning and afternoon. Notices will be forwarded to all members playing in these rounds as soon as arrangements can be made with one of our regular Bowling Clubs. Ample time will be given to all members as the rule of play or forfeit will apply — no exceptions. It would be appreciated if all members would co-operate and get these events off to a good start.

It is with great pleasure to learn that Jack Shaffran is in the final of the Warringah Bowling Club Singles Championship and plays Bob Sharpe, the well known State player. Jack, we can assure you that everyone in Tatt's Bowling Club is behind you and hope that in our next issue we will have the pleasure of congratulating you and look forward to Tatt's Bowling Club having another member in the City Masters Championship. All the best Jack.

We were very pleased to see Clive Hoole back in the fold after his lengthy stay on the Gold Coast and hope that we will see a lot of him while in Sydney.

Winners for our Thursday roll up —

4th April — City: K. Fidden, G. Gleeson (visitor), H. Jones, S. Peters, 23 points.

11th April — Waverley: N. Barrell, S. Clements, J. King (visitor), 23 points.

GOLF CLUB NOTES

Our April venue at the Lakes Golf Club saw 103 ardent golfers set out to play their final respects to the present layout.

In beautiful weather the resultant scores were generally of a high standard for a testing course in nigh perfect condition.

Best of the members was John Hallinan (handicap (16/12) with 35 stableford points, who won from Tom Setright (9/7) also 35 points, in a photo finish.

The four-ball, again won on a count-back, went to Tony Freedman (12/9) and visitor Barry Cribb, with 44 points, from John Vandenberg (15/11) and Jim Nield (20/15), whilst P. Brown (16/12), the best of 20 visitors, returned 37 points to win the visitors' trophy and post the best score of the day.

Our thanks go to the Lakes Golf Club in making possible such an enjoyable day, with every assistance given by their secretary, Noel Bartell.

THE KELSOS—A family of great trainers

The retirement of our Club member, Mr. W. (Bill) Kelso, as a trainer licensed by the Australian Jockey Club ended a century of family associated with the Turf in Australia.

Not merely a hundred years of training, racing and handling a long string of thoroughbreds, but a record of outstanding success in the production of champion gallopers, champion jockeys, and a line of trainers who, after Kelso tuition, became champions also in their vocation. The Kelso clan of three generations not only made famous history on the Turf, but established a family tradition of unblemished reputation under the Australian Jockey Club by whom their integrity was never questioned. The last of them, Bill Kelso, departs to a private life, knowing that he played his part in keeping the record clean and up to a standard of which any racing man could be justly proud.

The progenitor of the Kelso line embraced the turf after association with the utility horse and became such a rapid success that he once owned, raced and trained a Derby runner at Randwick last century, and, with Lord Orville, a horse that had never started before, was successful in Tattersall's Cup at Randwick in 1882. His son, Bill Kelso II, bred, owned and trained Statesman, the Melbourne Cup winner of 1928, and was successful with other horses in most of the classic races of N.S.W. and Victoria. The recently retired Bill Kelso III had a favorite, Persist, whose pet name was "Old Mother" which she earned many times over. She won short and long races, scored at weight-for-age, and when after 12 wins and with $36,472 in stakes, she retired to stud she was one of our most successful brood mares whose stock brought fabulous prices.

The Kelso line has multiplied to the fifth generation, but none remains in the training of race horses. Bill Kelso III has been a member of Tattersall's Club since 1950 and when he recently brought his grandson, aged 2½ years, and also named Bill for a brief visit to the Club it was a very proud occasion, indeed, for he was the fifth generation of Kelsos to enter the portals of Tattersall's Club either in earlier Pitt Street or our present site in Elizabeth Street.

The Kelso record is long, but full of exciting triumph, so the writer will split the story two ways, devoting first portion to the first two generations and the rest to our current Bill Kelso who has had a successful career on the turf, and in civic, charitable and other affairs of his community.

The caption in the race book "Trainer — W. Kelso" was read by many generations of racegoers over a period of 100 years. It always meant a well-trained horse with reasonable prospects of success. Bill Kelso I part-owned and trained Lord Orville, and he was ridden by his son Bill, then 12 years of age. Lord Orville did something that probably no other Cup winner in my history book ever achieved. Two races after his Cup win he was saddled up for the Welter and again was successful.

Lord Orville had never started in a race before his Cup success but he had had plenty of experience in what were called "match" contests in his day. An owner would stake £50 or £100 to say his horse could beat some other thoroughbred of the district. The matches were run over a marked mile in the two centres where racing thrived along a marked mile on the Parramatta Road or Randwick Road. There were no handicaps. They were run at catch-weights. The owner could put up any rider he liked and that is why Bill Kelso I elected to give the mount on Lord Orville to his son, Bill, aged only 12, who weighed less than six stone. This gave him a tremendous advantage and needless to say Lord Orville won many of these matches for the astute and original Bill Kelso. He used to say "Little fish are sweet" and went on collecting his £50 or £100 side wagers. Apart from the light weight pull in hoisting his son into the saddle, he knew that the very young Bill was an expert horseman in the making. This proved right when he later won many races on the flat and over hurdles. In a hurdle spill he sustained a broken leg which never straightened and later in life he wore an iron brace.

Bill Kelso I gained the biggest triumph of his career when he owned and trained Survivor, the winner of the Metropolitan of 1897.

Wm. Kelso II inherited his father's inbred understanding of thoroughbreds, and his native shrewdness plus. That he was a great judge of thoroughbreds was proved in two wide-apart spheres. Whilst on an English visit he saw a horse win a cheap selling race, bought him for 200 gns. and brought him to Australia. He proved to be Son of the Marsh, who won the 1912 Tattersall's Cup and many other good races. The second case was when a famous English racehorse was for sale about 1918 after winning the Melbourne Stakes weight for age at Flemington. Percy Miller, owner of the famous Kia Ora Stud with two partners, rejected the offer and Bill Kelso said to Mr. Miller: "Well if you don't want him I'll buy," and, when asked why, he replied: "He is the best English horse I have ever seen, and can't help being a great stud proposition." So Percy Miller switched and bought him and that's exactly what he turned out to be, the most successful sire ever in Australia, up to his time. The name? Maggie.

Statesman, bred, owned and trained by Bill Kelso, provided a pointed example of his out-and-out shrewdness in planning a far off coup in the 1928 Melbourne Cup. As a two year old he had won only a minor Randwick two-year-old ridden by Jack Coutts. It was when he ran second to Trivalve in the 1927 Victorian Derby, and when Trivalve advanced to Melbourne Cup success three days later that he realised his future potential. On seeing that he was handicapped as a four-year-old for the 1928 Melbourne Cup at 8-0 he pronounced him a "good thing".

In fact he rated him a near weight for age prospect of the future, so it isn't difficult to guess what he thought of his Melbourne Cup prospects with such a luxury weight. But until within a month of the Melbourne Cup he kept his possibilities under double wraps. He won a minor mile and a half handicap at the A.J.C. Spring carnival. Mr. Kelso had mapped out this type of unambitious programme to avoid penalty.

But Bill Kelso had backed him at long odds as soon as the betting charts were out, and, as his preparation developed he kept on supporting his horse. Statesman started second favorite at 7/2 and won the Cup by four lengths from the 9/4 favorite Strephon, landing a fortune for his owner-trainer.

Bill Kelso II began his classic triumphs when he acquired a two-year-old, Beverage, well named as his sire was Maltster. With him he won the 1910 Victorian Sires' Produce Stakes and Ascot Vale Stakes, then the A.J.C. Sires' and finally the Victorian Derby. Bill's knowledge of riding over jumps led to his training Bay Eagle, the Grand National steeplechase winner of 1902 at Flemington. Only a 14-2 pony it was a miracle how such a midget negotiated the monster fences and the stone wall Cathedral on Australia's toughest steeple course. But Bay Eagle did it and won the National by more than half a furlong.

This and subsequent victories proved that Bill Kelso II was equally skilled with jumpers, flying speedsters, or stayers. He won two 5½ furlongs Oakleigh Plates with Aries and Poitrina, and the 1915 Futurity, seven furlongs, with an English horse, Flash of Steel.

After a Sires' Produce Stakes win with Millieme he won the 1920 St. Leger and the Williamstown Cup. He won half an Epsom 1925 with Boaster who dead-heated with Metellus from Melbourne. Clark and Robinson, Australian stock-brokers who went to England to become millionaires, sent out Flash of Steel and another horse named St. Spasa, to Bill Kelso with whom he won the 1914 Metropolitan.

Wins with Loquacious emphasised his capacity to successfully handle mares who are not always reliable as staying propositions. Loquacious won the Adrian Knox Stakes when it was the chief event for three-year-old fillies. In the 1929 Metropolitan, which was one of the most sensational betting races ever run, he had a notable training triumph with Loquacious. That was the year Nightmarch was backed first for the Metropolitan, then for the Epsom and later for the Melbourne Cup. He landed the Epsom and was penalised 10 lb. up to 9-12 but under this huge burden ran a courageous race to finish second, half a length behind Loquacious 8-11. Nightmarch went on to success in the Melbourne Cup with 9-2. Loquacious went on to stud to produce another Metropolitan winner, Feminist, exactly 10 years later.

Bill Kelso II trained the Queensland stayer, Piastoon, for the 1927 Sydney Cup, a 25/1 chance who led all the way and beat off the crack N.Z. three-year-old stayer of that year, Limerick, into second place. According to those folklore name match making double takers Piastoon simply had to win. On a very heavy track Don Moon had won the postponed first leg, the Doncaster, and those who took the long odds about Don Moon-Piastoon collected.

One of the first steps to train future jockeys by Bill Kelso II was a fabulous success. It was the incomparable Jim Pike. Jim had the basic talent, but his master brought it to the surface with such painstaking skill that he made him the best of his age, and a champion whose name still remains a by-word on the Turf 35 years after retirement. Two others trained in the Kelso stable were Geo. Meddick, who won the 1914 Melbourne Cup on Kingsburgh, and Alby Callinan, winner of the 1914 Metropolitan on St. Spasa, and later top jockey for years on the Sydney pony courses and who netted enough money to buy a good Sydney hotel.

Among the trainers Bill Kelso tutored in his stable was Ike Earnshaw, who won the Caulfield/Melbourne Cups double of 1906 with Poseidon and the Caulfield Cup the next year with Poseidon owned by Sir Hugh Denison, founder of the Sydney "Sun".

Another was Pat Nailon, who won most of Australia's big races for Messrs. E. J. Watt, R. C. Stanton, R. Dickerson (of Duo fame) and Earnie Fellows, who now trains in France for an American millionaire at the fabulous recompense of £10,000 a year sterling net, with expenses paid.

The next issue of Tattersall's Club Magazine will tell the story of the last of the legendary Kelso dynasty, Bill Kelso III who retired as a number one Randwick trainer a few months ago.

Handball Notes

The Club Handball Championships are now in full swing and already we have had some surprises. The biggest surprise is that Bruce Galea has withdrawn from the event this year and Bruce Partridge has also had to withdraw owing to injuries. This leaves the event wide open. Results to date are :

A GRADE

Ralph Davies defeated Bruce Galea w.o. Robert Lipman defeated Ken Glass 31-22. Norm Rogers defeated Bill Sellen 32-30.

The match between Norm Rogers and Bill Sellen was a great one. They were very evenly matched and the result was in doubt right up to the final score of 32-30 in favour of Norm Rogers. The score see-sawed throughout and produced handball of the highest calibre. Bill put up a wonderful show and was a very happy man with his fine form even though he lost. To Norm we offer our congratulations. He showed what a great fighter he is by his tenacious return of service and mighty hitting which in the end proved just too much for Bill.

Robert Lipman and Ken Glass also had a good match. Although the scores were 31-22 in favour of Robert this is not an indication of how close this match was. Ken played a very fine game but the lucky breaks evaded him at vital stages of the game and this helped his opponent to build up a lead which he could not overcome. Hard luck Ken and congratulations to Robert.

B GRADE

Stan Heaton defeated Robert Hill 31-29, Stan Heaton defeated Ken Humphery 31-25, Arthur O'Connor defeated John Brice 31-29, Michael O'Dea defeated Ron Spencer 31-23.

Stan Heaton continues to show fine form in this event. He has played two matches and has recorded two wins. The match against Robert Hill was a very tense one for him as he had to show his best form to win in a very close match 31-29. It was hard luck for Robert to meet Stan in such form. Stan followed his victory against Robert by having a much easier win over Ken Humphery by 31-25. This was a most enjoyable game to watch. Ken gets quite a "kick" out of these games and can always be relied upon to give his opponent a good workout.

Arthur O'Connor survived a very close one against John Brice, winning by 31-29 after a stern struggle. John is one of our keenest competitors and does not get the breaks he deserves. He is consistent but luck seems to desert him at the critical moment. However we cannot take anything away from Arthur who battled right to the finish and won a fine match for which he deserves every congratulation.

Michael O'Dea really had his "Irish Blood" working against Ron Spencer whom he defeated by 31-23. Michael is a left hander and also a very strong hitter. He was in fine form and I thought that Ronnie played very well to score 23 points in this match.

C GRADE

Robert Fisher defeated Bruce Cox 31-21, Col Pearce defeated Charles Coppa 31-21, Bill Orme defeated Terry Forrest 31-13, Fred Alsop defeated Trevor Barrell 31-27, Peter Barnes defeated John Devitt 31-29.

The first three matches resulted in very easy wins and do not warrant any comment.

However the other two matches were most interesting. The victory of Fred Alsop over Trevor Barrell by 31-27 was a marvellous result and must have given Fred a great kick. Trevor is a veteran in this grade and always hard to beat. Not a hard hitter but consistent and cagey and does not give anything away. Fred on the other hand has a physical disability in so much as that he lost his left arm in an accident some years ago and consequently could be at a great disadvantage in games like handball. Does this deter him — not one bit. He moves around the court like one of his "two year olds" and to such an extent that he held Trevor throughout the match to win 31-27, which I reckon is about "half a length". Well done Fred and I hope that you go on to bigger and better wins.

The other match between Peter Barnes and John Devitt was a beauty with Peter scraping home in a photo finish by 31-29. This result was just a matter of who got the lucky breaks and on this occasion it was Peter., so to him go our congratulations and to John our commiserations. A grand match played by two fine sportsmen.

GYMNASIUM GALLOPS

Since the new equipment has been placed in the Gym on the third floor it is amazing to see the number of chaps doing a little sly training and getting into better shape. This applies to all ages — young and old and it is wonderful to see. I noticed Neville Amy on the mat the other day doing a few "push-ups". I noticed Bruce Partridge trying out his back muscles which he injured and have kept him out of the handball events. I hope that it does you good Bruce and that you will be as active as ever in a short while. I noticed Bill Kendall looking very fit having a massage and enjoying it. Lionel Abrahams is a regular and looks well for the effort. Also regulars having a massage and a little exercise are Dudley Braham, Mr. Tuit, George Langford, Dave Robertson. It is good to see. Two brothers who are always fit and intend to stay that way are John Keating and his brother David. If this type of thing keeps up I can see quite a few of our third floor athletes clamouring for selection in some of these overseas teams. Herman Doerner is back on the floor again doing a few lengths of the baths. Les Tidmarsh is also a regular who likes to keep in a bit of shape. Anyhow members you can always remember that if you want to improve your health — tune up your muscles — feel fit — we have all the facilities on the third floor of your Club to help you do it. A special mention to John McKell who likes to have a workout two or three times a week. No wonder he looks so fit and worries the life out of his friend Peter McGrath on the Bowling Greens.

Report on Country Club

Several family groups visited Lynwood at Sackville on the Hawkesbury River over the weekend of 20th and 21st April to inspect the property and enjoy a barbecue picnic.

Many took to the river and enjoyed a day's water skiing while others were content to create a thirst with other diversions.

However, all were unanimous that Lynwood is ideally situated and will provide a Country Club with amenities to suit all members of the family.

Following the inspection a meeting was held in the Sportsman's Room at Tattersall's Club on Monday evening, 22nd April, and it was generally agreed to proceed with the formation of the Country Club.

The Country Club committee is now investigating methods of financing the project and formulating a plan to present to prospective members.

This should be available within the next few weeks, and will be promulgated in the magazine.

SWIMMING NOTES

Don Hay's mighty effort in winning all four races gave him the maximum points, 32, in the March-April point score and a record of five wins in his last six contests.

The handicapper has had his eye on Don's great performance and has debited him a couple of seconds which will make it hard for him in future.

Bill Henneberry has recaptured some of his best form with a brace of final wins and a heat victory, ending up seven points behind Hay, with Bruce Cameron one and a half points further back in third place.

The battle royal between Frank Falson and Dan O'Connor for Bill Kirwan's "Native Son" annual point score continues, but at the time of writing these notes Frank had taken the lead with 121 points, one ahead of Dan.

However, another keen contestant, Roger Clark, is putting in a strong run and he is now only seven points behind Dan O'Connor with Bruce Cox five and a half points away in fourth place.

A good average of forty-five starters for the last four races showed continued interest in the pool events, and a welcome was given to a new member, Ian Butchart, a brother of speedy swimmer, Bill.

Ian is quite a good performer and has already won a heat in the sterling time of 20.7 seconds and has lost a second from his handicap.

Fastest winning times of the month were: 18.9 John Devitt, 20.1 Bill Henneberry, 20.7 Ian Butchart, 21.3 Robert Hill, 21.7 Terry Forrest.

It was good to see Bob Adams back in action again after a long absence. Hope to see you with us more often in future, Bob.

Had a card from popular Sam Block in which he sent his best regards from Hawaii to all the boys on the Third Floor. Sam says he had a rough trip to Auckland but since then it has been delightful with the swimming pool on board very popular.

Congratulations to Syd Kay on becoming a grandfather early in April. No wonder Syd wears that smile that won't rub off.

We will not see John Keating in action in the Pool for a couple of months as he left by air in April for a world trip. Saw his family, including Leo and David, farewelling him in the Dining Room a couple of nights earlier. Have a fine trip, John.

David Dind had a bad streak in his racing for quite a while, but he has appreciated the handicapper's action in giving him a longer handicap by winning heats in three of his last four races. No one enjoys his swimming more than David so it's good to see him among the winners again.

Arthur O'Connor, the man with the bow tie, has not been with us for some time but he made a re-appearance a few weeks ago and took out a Brace-Relay with Bill Henneberry as partner.

Booking arrangements for bedrooms

Since our residential section has been completed it has proved to be most popular with members, both local and out-of-town, and a steady flow of members is always seeking accommodation. However, the increased facilities now available provide for greater numbers than before and, for the present at least, it is only on the rarest occasions that the Club is in a position where it cannot take a booking. For the most part accommodation is always available and members are urged to use the Club for residential purposes whenever the occasion arises.

The bedrooms leave nothing to be desired in first class accommodation. Furnishings are tasteful and relaxing, as the photograph of a typical room clearly shows. Most bedrooms have their own bathroom and toilet facilities. The rooms where this is not the case are situated adjacent to the general bathrooms for maximum convenience to the occupants.

Members who have stayed in the Club are unanimous in their opinion that our accommodation compares more than favourably with Sydney's first class hotels. The tariff, however, is quite modest for this standard of accommodation and is as follows:

Bedroom with bathroom, $8.00 per day.

Bedroom without bathroom, $6.00 per day.

This tariff includes several extras which are not normally available elsewhere.

The swimming pool on the third floor is open to residents, who like an early morning swim, up to 9 a.m. and is free. Also provided at no cost are morning tea, newspapers and breakfast.

So if members need accommodation in Sydney it is hard to find better or more economical residence than the Club.
